

Sovereign Corpse Flower

SOVEREIGN CORPSE FLOWER

Apex Swamp Horror • Necrotic Flora • Ambush Predator

An ancient carrion-bloom rooted in death-soaked marshland, the Sovereign Corpse Flower lures the curious with a faint inner glow and the promise of treasure or remains. Its vast petals hide a grave-like maw filled with bones, while massive root-limbs drag it through black water in search of prey. Patient, territorial, and eerily intelligent, it thrives where rot, blood, and stillness gather.

DETAILS

Role: Monster

Occupation: Bog Apex Predator

Origin / Region: Death-soaked Swamplands

Age: Ancient

Traits: Patient, Predatory, Territorial

Likes / Interests: Carrion, Still Water, Moonlit Mire

COLOUR PALETTE

— FRONT —

— SIDE —

— BACK —

CREATURE FEATURES

Corpse Lure

Faint inner glow and heat draw in the curious and the lost.

Necrotic Core

Grave-like maw filled with bones, rot, and unholy essence.

Root Talons

Massive root-limbs end in hooked talons for tearing and grip.

Spore Sacs

Pulsing sacs release decay spores that sicken and confuse.

Sensory Tendrils

Whip-like tendrils sense vibrations, scent, and warmth.

EXPRESSIONS

Use this row to show key behavioral states and bloom variations.

Note changes in petal spread, inner glow, and root tension.

Dormant

Luring

Alert

Feeding

Enraged

NOTES

- Emits faint heat and decay spores.
- Skeletal remains often visible in bloom.
- Roots can lift and stride surprisingly fast.
- Avoid still pools at red moonrise.

Revision #1
Created 2026-08-12 12:32:55 UTC by Slitzer
Updated 2026-08-12 12:33:14 UTC by Slitzer